FROM ONE GENERATION TO THE NEXT

A MESSAGE FROM OUR

Chair | Board of Directors

The 2020 year at the Jewish Foundation of Manitoba was defined by significant and urgent community needs and was characterized by the JFM's ability and determination to respond quickly and meaningfully. It was a year when in-person Board meetings were replaced with virtual meetings, and our traditional donor events were cancelled or were modified. Nevertheless, 2020 was a year of success.

As my term as Board Chair ends, it's an opportunity to reflect on the highlights of the past two years at the Foundation. For me, the prompt and compassionate Covid response tops the list. By the end of 2020, JFM COVID-19 relief funding from our undesignated funds, combined with funds that were directed by donors to be used toward Covid relief, had reached $898,000. It is our intention that this total will continue to rise until our organizations have recovered from the financial impacts of the pandemic.

Our CEO search was the primary focus in my first year as Board Chair, and through our organizationally-led selection, we hired our CEO John Diamond, who began in the position in February 2020. John and the JFM staff have navigated the organization remarkably well during a period when many of our routine and traditional practices were on hold, ably developing new initiatives to maintain that essential link with our donors and beneficiary organizations during a time when our opportunity for interpersonal connections was compromised.

A third key accomplishment has been the commencement of our Board's strategic planning process. With our strategic plan of 2015 no longer current, it became clear to me that the development of a new business plan could not wait for Covid to end. Using our online technology to facilitate discussion groups, we have undertaken a streamlined process that involves looking inward to seek input from our Board and staff and looking outward to seek input from the community. Our goal is that the information we glean from the focus groups will help guide us to reach new segments of our community – particularly those segments that, to this point, may have been under-engaged. When I introduced the planning process to the Board and staff, it was a healthy opportunity to remind ourselves, in the simplest terms, what our Foundation does and why we are here. We have three functions: first, we build support from prospective and current donors; second, we prudently manage the endowment funds entrusted to the Foundation; and third, we respond to our community and its needs by distributing funds. Although the functions may sound simple, it takes a combination of hard work, expertise and humanity to execute them well.

The Jewish Foundation of Manitoba is one of Canada's foremost community endowments. This is the result of the prescience of those who preceded us and the decades of ongoing dedication of our volunteers and staff. Most importantly, it is possible due to the generosity of our donors. Thank you for every hour and every dollar you give.

It has been my great honour and privilege to serve. Naturally, I wish I could have had the opportunity to participate in more in-person events during my term. What is more important, though, is that despite a pandemic and world instability, we moved forward – always led by the Foundation's mission and vision. The JFM characterizes the best in us all, from one generation to the next - l'dor vador.

A MEMORABLE FIRST YEAR

A MESSAGE FROM OUR Chief Executive Officer

The day I arrived at the Foundation, I began absorbing all the things, big and small, that make up the JFM. How we interact with donors, invest and steward this significant community endowment, and perhaps the most crucial aspect and our reason for existence - how we support, guide, and encourage our beloved Jewish community's growth and vitality.

That period of acclimation was both fast-tracked and knocked onto a completely new track when the full extent of the pandemic hit home, and realization set in that we were dealing with something that none of us, board, staff, or community had encountered before.

In a time when many organizations were, to no fault of their own, in a state of uncertainty and unrest, we managed to step forward. We pushed back against the onset of the unknown and expedited an emergency plan to disperse funds and embrace our entire community. No matter the extent each Jewish charitable organization had been affected, we gave them all the needed reassurance that someone was there for them; that the Jewish Foundation of Manitoba was there for them.

While these immediate actions were being taken for our community, JFM staff were surmising new and creative ways to serve our community without pause. We are proud that there was never an interruption of service to our donors or recipient organizations. The function of the Foundation never skipped a beat when staff transitioned between working from home and being in the office, a luxury we all now appreciate that much more.

This year we hired three new staff members, each of which met the demands of both learning new positions remotely and doing so during a time when what we required from all staff seemed to be changing by the minute.

The conduct of the JFM in 2020 set a benchmark for organizations in our community, reinforcing the trust and reliability that our brand represents. Our open lines of communication with Jewish organizations, including the Jewish Federation of Winnipeg, ensure we have our finger on the pulse of developing need. We take a massive amount of pride in our donors' faith in us to steward this endowment. Over 3.8 million dollars in contributed capital realized this year is a testament to that ongoing confidence.

John Diamond B.A., LL.B.
Chief Executive Officer

A PLAN WITH A PURPOSE

A MESSAGE FROM OUR Chief Financial Officer

It cannot be overstated that 2020 was a year like no other year. Prior to 2020 we assumed and perhaps took for granted that the air was always safe to breathe. We could hug our friends and family and converse unfettered at our favourite gathering spots. As the pandemic enveloped the community and the health protocols took over, the community organizations the Foundation serves had to adjust; many having to fight for survival.

The Jewish Foundation adjusted to community needs as well. For the first time in its history, it provided emergency operating funding to organizations. This year $5.4 million was distributed to the community, $898,000 as emergency funding to Manitoba organizations that play a vital role in our community. The first $300,000 of funding was distributed without being requested by organizations - also a first for the Foundation. Each dollar of distribution magnified, taking on its own dimension in a year like no other. Some of these distributed dollars provided leverage, as a donor matched a portion of the funding.

Many community organizations assist their own objectives as well through continued growth in their respective organizational endowments established at the Foundation. $1.0 million of the $3.8 million in new contributions to the Foundation during 2020 was allocated to organizational endowments.

The importance of endowment planning and building to organizations, creating a perpetual and reliable annual cash flow through “thick and thin” was never more apparent, as illustrated by the events of 2020. Endowment building not only assists organizations help themselves through a crisis but also provides a financial defence to mitigate the next crisis. Growth is not just for growth’s sake, but for a real purpose. This is the essence of endowment building - growth in perpetual annual cash flow to the community.

The first quarter of 2020 was a challenge to all endowments in terms of investment performance. As the markets adjusted during the remainder of the year, the Foundation’s portfolio returned 10.74% before fees by year-end. The Investment Committee works diligently to oversee the portfolio’s asset allocation, especially considering the current extremely low bond yield environment. Meaningful and reliable distribution for today’s community needs - as well as tomorrow’s is the primary objective. The Foundation continues to work towards this purpose.

MATCHING INCENTIVES

FundMatch

Launched in 2012, FundMatch is an initiative designed to entice organizations to grow their endowment funds. When certain benchmarks are reached, the initiative provides an additional contribution to the organizational endowment fund, which generates even more income for that organization.

BERVIN

The Berdie & Irvin Cohen (BERVIN) Incentive Fund was established in 2014 to launch a new threshold of incentive for organizations to grow their endowments. Once a participating organization reaches $1 million in new money, they earn the right to withdraw capital from their endowment fund. Participating organizations are required to broaden their relationship with the State of Israel through meaningful initiatives.

The Incentive Fund is a son's way of honouring the memory of Berdie and Irvin Cohen – a couple remembered for their values, work ethic, upstanding character, and good parenting.

The two initiatives are currently being funded in three ways:

i. Sponsorship Gifts

The Asper Foundation	Will Hechter & Family
Carol & Sheldon Berney Fund	Myrna Levin
Marjorie & Morley Blankstein Fund	Tova & Larry Vickar
Ted  & Deanna Cohen

ii. Distribution from Endowment Fund

Berdie & Irvin Cohen (BERVIN) Organizational Incentive Fund

iii. and by a commitment from the JFM.

Thank you to the donors who provided matching dollars and thank you to the participating organizations. These partnerships are critical to the Foundation's mission of encouraging and facilitating the creation and growth of endowment funds to enable the community to realize its potential.

GETTING SUPPORT IN TOUGH TIMES

In 2011, Svetlana Chechelnitsky got the kind of news that no parent should ever receive: her then three-year-old daughter Dasha had leukemia. While the diagnosis was devastating, it also came at a complicated time. Chechelnitsky and her family had moved to Winnipeg from Israel three years earlier and she had just been accepted to law school. Dasha, though, required regular hospital visits, which meant she had to quit her job to be by her daughter's side. "I became a part-time nurse," she says. "We all barely made it through."

Despite the constant care, Chechelnitsky wanted to stay in school – getting a law degree was important to her. However, without working, and with her husband in school too, paying tuition was a challenge. She had financial support from family and savings, but she needed more. Someone told her about the Jewish Foundation of Manitoba's scholarship program, which gives out awards to help people pay for post-secondary education. She applied twice and received much-needed funds both times. "It was super helpful," she says.

Thankfully Dasha made a full recovery, while Chechelnitsky made it through law school. She now works at Shared Health and sits on the JFM's scholarship committee. "The community helped me when I needed help," she says. "As long as I am alive, I am on the committee. That's my commitment back to the Foundation."

FUNDING FOR THOSE IN NEED

When the pandemic hit, Jewish Child and Family Service (JCFS) was, not surprisingly, nervous about what a lockdown might mean for the people it helps. While the organization, which works with seniors, supports those with substance abuse issues and assists others in need, has stable funding from several sources, it needed some additional dollars to help it go remote.

In April, it received an unsolicited cheque for $12,000, as part of the JFM's COVID-19 Relief Funding program, which it used to purchase laptops for its staff. "That cheque came so quickly," says Ari Hanson, JCFS board president. "It allowed our staff to continue serving our clients, especially the isolated seniors who couldn't go out and do things for themselves."

Over the years, money from the Foundation has helped JCFS run programs, such as a drop-in groups, programs for newcomers, helping families learn about Jewish traditions, and more. It gets between 5% and 8% of its budget from various JFM-related sources, including an endowment, which currently sits at more than $3 million, and pays out about $100,000 annually.

Having those kinds of funds at its disposal allows JCFS to think big – it wants to build a state-of-the-art adult sober living centre, for instance, which it can only do with financial assistance. "It helps to have a Foundation that is extremely proactive," says Hanson. "It's thinking about the agencies it supports all of the time."

In 2020, our community faced new and difficult challenges related to the COVID-19 virus. The Jewish Foundation of Manitoba stood ready to respond. Our goal was to act quickly, inclusively and responsibly to assist organizations affected by the pandemic.

Undesignated funds were essential in allowing us the flexibility to identify and adapt to the changing needs throughout the year. In a typical year, the JFM's Undesignated Funds are utilized to distribute grants to Jewish and Manitoba community organizations. These grants are dedicated to programming and exciting initiatives that strive to enlighten communities and the people who make them so vibrant. During 2020, the Foundation's Board redirected these funds for emergency operational relief.

Winnipeg Relief Funding

In 2020, the following distributions were provided to four front-line community charities in Winnipeg for COVID-19 emergency relief. Additionally, through the generosity of an anonymous donor, a matching donation of $34,000 brought the total distributed to $102,000.

FAST FUNDING TO HELP SENIORS

Becky Chisick was as shocked as everyone to see the world shut down in March 2020, but as the Executive Director of the Gwen Sector Creative Living Centre, a lockdown was particularly concerning. Responsible for keeping Jewish seniors busy and engaged – without her organization, many would be alone. Becky not only needed financial support to keep her programs running – now virtually – but she also made a pledge to retain her staff. “It was scary,” she says. “I was definitely concerned about how we were going to continue operating.”

Fortunately, Gwen Sector has a longstanding relationship with the Jewish Foundation of Manitoba (JFM), and so when the JFM distributed cheques, unsolicited, in April 2020 to help community agencies keep their doors open, they received $6,700 in the mail. “I couldn’t get to the bank fast enough,” she says, adding that most of those dollars went to a meal program for isolated seniors. The organization received an additional $35,000 in COVID relief funds over the course of the year.

In addition to these funds, plus grants and annual distributions from donors, the organization also has a $382,000 endowment with the JFM, which spins off an annual distribution of over $15,000 that it uses for operations. This fund is key to keeping its lights on. “It keeps people working – all the good stuff,” she explains. “All of this funding shows that the Jewish Foundation really believes in our seniors, and that’s never changed.”

ORGANIZATIONAL & SPECIAL INTEREST FUNDS

Organizational Endowment Funds are an important cornerstone of our success as a Foundation and as a community. By launching and growing their own endowment funds, our institutions ensure an annual flow of income – in perpetuity. Our Special Interest Funds allow donors to come together to support programs and services more broadly (like Jewish camping, special needs, or women's causes, for example).

BAR/BAT MITZVAH ENDOWMENT FUNDS

These funds instill the principles of tzedakah and philanthropy in young people. When a child's fund reaches $750 by the time they reach age 15, the Nora & DavidTM Kaufman Bar/Bat Mitzvah Fund contributes an additional $250 to bring the fund to the $1,000 level. Once this happens, the fundholder is invited to recommend its annual allocation.

2020 JEWISH FOUNDATION OF MANITOBA LUNCHEON

in support of the Women's Endowment Fund

The 2020 JFM Annual Luncheon in support of the Women's Endowment Fund was set to happen Friday, May 10th. With the onset of the pandemic and the corresponding restrictions, the difficult decision was made to cancel the event. However, both the Women's Endowment Fund and the charitable organizations that it supports were needed more than ever.

Many would-be attendees who had already purchased their tickets to the 2020 Luncheon opted to, instead of receiving a refund, contribute the cost of their tickets directly to the Women's Endowment Fund. The generosity of these donors attributed to $12,505 being added to the endowment. Thank you for all of your contributions.

Throughout 2020 the Women's Endowment Fund ensured there was financial assistance available to directly benefit the women and children hit hardest by the pandemic. With your help, we continue to work with the community, providing grants that embrace those who need it most.

BOOK OF LIFE

2020 SIGNERS

In years past, we have always been able to come together to honour the Jewish Foundation of Manitoba's Endowment Book of Life signers and their stories. In 2020, as you know, that was not possible. Instead, we brought the celebration straight to you. For the first time, we needed to find a way to recognize all of our unique and inspirational signers without the ability to gather together. Through that necessity, "EBOL WEEK" was born.

Starting Monday, October 26, and for the entire week following, we dedicated all of our communication channels to these six amazing people. The Foundation's social media, directed email and print advertising encouraged all to visit our website and uncover these inspirational life stories. Each day of the week, one story could be found in the Winnipeg Free Press, topping off the experience and bringing our signer's stories to the broadest audience ever.

While it may have looked a bit different this year, the sentiment and importance remained the same. These Endowment Book of Life Signers will leave both a financial and historical legacy to our community. Their commitment is a gift to our children, grandchildren, and all future generations of our families.

HELPING THE COMMUNITY THAT SAVED HIM

Adam Nepon is lucky to be alive. At least that's how he feels after spending much of his teenage years running with the wrong crowd, which led getting into too many unsavory situations. The only reason he made it through those difficult years was because of the Jewish community support he received growing up, from school to camp to sports. "Without the community, and the money circulating through it, people like me don't get through," he says. "These are lifesaving funds."

After Nepon sorted his life out in his 20s – he's now an entrepreneur and dad – he started giving back to the community that supported him and his seven siblings. In 2020, he worked with the Jewish Foundation of Manitoba to set up a memorial fund in honour of his younger brother Jonah, a music promoter, who passed away from cancer in 2013.

He set out to raise $10,000 to create a music production program at Camp Massad, a goal he reached within two weeks. He now wants to raise $100,000. "Jonah gave people opportunities and he can keep giving through this," says Nepon.

That same year he signed the JFM's Endowment Book of Life, pledging to give at least $100,000 of a life insurance policy to the Foundation after he eventually passes away. "I feel grateful to be in a position where I can now look back and see how much support we had," he says. "And I can be part of that system and not just take – it helps me feel full."
