TRADITION

COMMUNITY | FAMILY | CULTURE

At the JFM, donors are able to grow with their funds, change with their funds, and help our community with their funds.

Some donors first become engaged with the JFM through the tradition of their Bar/Bat Mitzvah and by opening a fund at the Foundation as a part of the tradition of Tzedakah. Some learn a tradition of philanthropy from their parents, and others make contributions honouring those parents or in their memory. The reasons behind philanthropic giving are as unique as each individual, but the outcome is the same; together our donors help facilitate OUR tradition of planting for those that will come after us.

Life circumstances can change, leading to shifts in finances, goals, and priorities. People develop new interests and passions, as their lives and families evolve over time. It is these evolutions that create and solidify the tradition of giving.

By actively engaging with their funds, donors are able to see the impact that their contributions are having in real-time, gaining insight into the impact that their support constantly has on the community around them.

Below is a snapshot of our supporter base, each involved in a way that works for them. Each with family and community - past, present and future - foremost in their thoughts.

NAOMI LEVINE

As a young student at Talmud Torah and growing up with parents who valued philanthropy, Naomi Levine's path to becoming involved with the Foundation has straightforward roots.

"We were always told, 'you give back to the community because they've accepted our families and provided a safe life and place for us,'" explains Levine.

Instilling the idea that they should give back to more than just the Jewish community but also the Winnipeg community, Levine began her philanthropic journey. Her interests lay in the arts, environment, and animal protection; her generosity reflected that.

In 2022, Naomi became an Endowment Book of Life signer at the Jewish Foundation of Manitoba and established the 'Bookhalter-Levine Scholarship Fund.'

"I began to realize that I've done a lot to help the community, but not the Jewish community," explains Levine. "Everything I do is coloured by the fact that I'm Jewish, and becoming an EBOL Signer was an easy decision because it allowed me to really become a part of the Jewish community while commemorating my family."

As she grew up, Naomi's parents also placed a strong emphasis on a good education. As a result, Naomi decided she wanted to provide opportunities for young people to accomplish their educational goals.

"Nothing excites me more than watching a young person be ambitious and achieve something; it doesn't matter what it is," says Levine. "If anything I can do will help that, that's what I want to do."

Naomi's fascinating story honouring Paul & Zlata Bookhalter and Louis & Sophie Levine can be read on the Foundation's website at www.jewishfoundation.org.

DREW BERMAN

Since the 1990s, Drew Berman has lived in Toronto, settling down there after time spent in Edmonton, Montreal, and his childhood in Winnipeg.

"One year, for my parents' anniversary, they established a fund at the Jewish Foundation of Manitoba, and people started contributing on birthdays, anniversaries, and other annual occasions," says Berman.

Shortly before the pandemic, both of Drew's parents passed away. To honour their memory and to celebrate the many lives they touched over the years, Berman wanted to keep their funds active and growing.

He now contributes monthly to two funds in honour of his parents, their Val & Alex Berman Community Fund and the Val Berman Women's Endowment Fund.

"I figured that it's very easy to make monthly contributions that increase over time," says Berman. "The Foundation makes it easy to do with automatic deposits; it helps grow their funds, maintain my ties to Winnipeg, and keeps my parents' names active in the community."

Continuity and connection to the community in Winnipeg are important to Berman.

"It's really very easy to not do anything," explains Berman. "I wanted to take away my ability to not give back. At the end of the year, it's easy to say I don't have enough to give, but when done monthly, it's painless. It maintains the momentum I've created for myself and my family as it relates to our philanthropy."

LORI BINDER

Lori Binder, Head of School at Gray Academy of Jewish Education, has deep roots in our community. Having spent her entire life in this close-knit neighbourhood, she has dedicated most of her career to working within the Jewish community.

Lori fondly recalls how her entire childhood was shaped by the embrace of Winnipeg's Jewish community. Thanks to the support of her parents, she had the privilege of attending Joseph Wolinsky Collegiate and spending her summers at Camp Massad - experiences shared by many others. However, it was during her professional journey that she truly grasped the significance of the Jewish Foundation's role in shaping our community.

As a recipient of the prestigious Mark & Dorothy Danzker Scholarship, while pursuing her Masters of Education, Lori made an exciting decision. Around her 40th birthday, she made a heartfelt commitment to leave a lasting impact on our community by becoming an Endowment Book of Life Signer at the Jewish Foundation of Manitoba.

"I intentionally wanted to take this step at a younger age," Lori explains. "I wanted to emphasize that even in my youth, I could contribute something meaningful that would benefit the community for years to come. I aspire to lead a fulfilling life, and by making this pledge early on, I can play a part in supporting the community well into the future."

"When I have the opportunity to give back, it fills me with a sense of duty and immense joy," Lori shares. "I am genuinely grateful that I can be in a position to support others, not only by leaving a lasting legacy one day but also by giving back during my lifetime. This community played a pivotal role in shaping me, and being able to reciprocate that support is truly fulfilling."

Lori's endearing Endowment Book of Life story can be read on the Foundation's website at www.jewishfoundation.org.

JUDI AND JOEL SHUSTER

For Judi and Joel Shuster, involvement at the Foundation is part of a tradition that has now been passed down through three generations.

When Joel's father Bill passed away, he left a gift to the Foundation in his will, an initial introduction to the Foundation for Judi and Joel. For a time, Joel's mother Beulah managed the fund, and in 1993 when she passed away, also leaving a gift to the fund, Judi and Joel began to manage it.

"What did we know about managing funds? At first, it was like going to a candy shop. We were told you have this much money to distribute, and you can do so, to wherever you'd like," Judi fondly recalls of her first conversations with David Cohen, the Foundation's CEO at the time, and Patti Boorman, who still works with the family today.

Having that tradition of giving passed down to them from Joel's parents, they knew they wanted to do the same with their children, Baillie and Sam.

"We wanted to start each of them with a Bar/Bat Mitzvah fund to show them an example of how to be a philanthropist and give back," explains Joel.

That example resonated, as Sam says that he has a sense of pride that he's been able to grow his fund, now started almost 20 years ago, and use its distributions to have a substantial impact in the community. Both Sam and Baillie have taken an active interest in designating the income from their Bar/Bat funds annually. Sam also now sits on the Jewish Foundation Grants Committee, again following in the family tradition as Judi sat on the Foundation Scholarship Committee for many years in the early 2000's.

From one generation to the next, giving back to the community has been a learned and embraced tradition for the Shuster family.

BENJI WINESTOCK

For Benji Winestock, involvement with the JFM can be seen as a true success of the Bar/Bat Mitzvah funds. Initially influenced and guided by his parents' heart for philanthropy, giving back to the community made sense to him. He put some of his bar mitzvah gift money into his fund, and then through gifts from family, friends, and the top-up through Bar/Bat fund benefactors, Nora & David²¹ Kaufman, the fund began to grow.

"It was always cool getting the notice in the mail asking where you want to allocate your money," remembers Winestock, who, for years, always distributed to Camp Massad. "It was a really great feeling to help out a cause that I was already involved in, having been both a camper and a counselor there."

Over time, Winestock spoke to Foundation staff and decided that rather than making the same decision year after year, he would move his Bar Mitzvah fund into the Camp Massad Endowment Fund and rename it as his family fund. The fund then became permanently designated to support Camp Massad on an annual basis.

In 2019, Winestock joined the JFM's Grants Committee.

"I really think volunteering like this is one of the truest forms of giving back to the community," explains Winestock. "It comes down to the community telling us where their greatest areas of need are and the Foundation supporting them in those areas."

See page 18 for a listing of 2022 Community Grants.

KEVIN GRINER

Born in Toronto before moving to Winnipeg in grade five, Kevin Griner is a grade nine student at Gray Academy of Jewish Education. In 2022, once he finally had his pandemic-delayed Bar Mitzvah, he opened a Bar Mitzvah fund at the JFM.

At that time, Kevin spoke with his mother about potential ways to give back to the community.

"She introduced the idea to me, and I really liked it right away," said Kevin.

"It stuck out to me because, with some charities, you need to be constantly putting money in, but with this, I could put in the initial amount, it keeps growing, I can add to it when I'm able, and it keeps helping people the whole time."

Once the fund reaches the designated level, Kevin plans to focus the distribution from his fund on the environment.

"All the time in school, we're learning about how global warming is all around us," explained Kevin. "It's worrying, and I want to help prevent something like that however I can. I know my fund may not make a huge difference right now, but I just want to be helping people, even if it helps one person; that would be so nice."

Over time, Bar/Bat Mitzvah funds grow like any other fund at the Foundation would. The added benefit is that it engages the youngest philanthropists in our community, creating a tradition of giving back early in their lives and setting a path for what their funds, and they as philanthropists, can become.

Many years ago, Tevye, from the musical, Fiddler on the Roof, gave the world an important lesson about tradition.

At the Jewish Foundation of Manitoba, that tradition is one of giving. It is one of supporting individuals and organizations in our community, creating the robust support system we know today.

Tradition provides balance and stability year after year and allows us to stay focused on our mission and core values. For nearly 60 years, the JFM has been a part of Winnipeg's philanthropic community.

The contributions made by the Foundation's first donors so many years ago were made with the foresight that our province's Jewish community would need to rest upon a solid structure to be both strong and long-lasting. We see now, years later, that we are both.

In 2022, our year at the Foundation began to look more like 'pre-pandemic' times. We saw a return to in-person events, headlined by our Endowment Book of Life Signers' Brunch, held at Congregation Etz Chayim. Over 150 community members came together to support those who chose to leave a financial legacy to our community and inscribe their stories in the Book of Life. We were thrilled to honour signers from 2020, 2021, and 2022 at the event.

By building upon our engrained ideals we ensure the strength of our Foundation will endure as we look toward the future; we maintain a connection to the past and pass on the importance of what we do for future generations.

Several of this year's grants speak to these very connections.

One of our Jewish Community Impact Grants supported online Judaic and Israel awareness programming, connecting participants from Winnipeg to Jews worldwide. The goal was to learn about and impart the beauty and wisdom of their shared Jewish heritage and to be enlightened by each other's history and customs.

Another grant provided the Jewish Federation of Winnipeg's Jewish literacy and outreach program, PJ Library, to maximize their interaction with unconnected community members. To us, inclusivity is paramount, and with every person these initiatives reach, our community becomes stronger and more vibrant.

We want to take this opportunity to thank all of the donors that have made the Foundation a part of their giving tradition. And we would also like to encourage those that have not, to reach out to us and find out how you can plant for those who will come after us.

Organizations and individuals continued to support the mission of the Foundation during 2022 - facilitating the growth of endowment funds to further enable the community to realize its potential through gifts of over $4.7 million in endowment contributions (2021 - $3.3 million). In addition, the Foundation capitalized residual income of $9.0 million to its endowment funds during the year based on the excellent 2021 investment performance.

The growth represents a healthy community asset that is serving its community. While the investment returns may ebb and flow in the short term, the Foundation will measure itself by its performance over the long term and its continued relevance to its constituents. The Foundation never takes this relevance for granted. We always like to reiterate that growth is not simply for growth's sake. Organic endowment growth increases the annual distribution to the community for Community Impact Grants, designated grants and scholarships. Thank you for your continued support!

The 2022 investment return certainly did ebb in the short term. The investment portfolio returned -7.44% before fees; -7.61% net of fees. Relatively speaking, the Foundation performance was 2nd quartile, and the return comes as no surprise given the 2022 global markets. The median return was -8.37%.

While mindful of 2022 performance, the Foundation is undaunted and is pressing ahead with its longer-term objectives of providing ongoing, sustainable support and improving the experience for its constituents. Grant commitments continued their increasing trend, with the Foundation committing an additional $1.3 million over the previous year. This is a result of both an increase in the endowment fund base and an increase in the annual distribution rate. The distribution rate will continue to increase for 2023.

The Foundation initiated a "trust-based" granting philosophy at the end of 2022 - to be fully implemented in 2023. Successful grant recipients will now receive their project funding in advance and report to the Foundation at the completion of their project. This greatly assists the recipient's cash flow and ability to get the project underway. The implementation of a new grant application software and transmittal portal was initiated in 2022 to improve the applicant's experience.

There are ongoing technological investments and advancements occurring behind the scenes to further secure, protect and enhance the core infrastructure. At the end of the day, we engage in this spirit of "Kaizen" or continuous improvement as our responsibility to protect and steward this precious asset called the Jewish Foundation for current and future generations.

FUNDMATCH

Launched in 2012, FundMatch is an initiative designed to entice organizations to grow their endowment funds. When certain benchmarks are reached, the initiative provides an additional contribution to the organizational endowment fund, which generates even more income for that organization.

BERVIN

The Berdie & Irvin Cohen (BERVIN) Incentive Fund was established in 2014 to launch a new threshold of incentive for organizations to grow their endowments. Once a participating organization reaches $1 million in new money, they earn the right to withdraw capital from their endowment fund. Participating organizations are required to broaden their relationship with the State of Israel through meaningful initiatives.

The Incentive Fund is a son's way of honouring the memory of Berdie and Irvin Cohen – a couple remembered for their values, work ethic, upstanding character, and good parenting.

When FundMatch began in 2012, four organizations participated. In that year, they collectively received $45,000 in distribution from their endowments.

Now in 2023, there are 16 participating organizations whose collective annual distribution has grown to almost

$1,000,000

As these funds continue to grow, it will mean more money back into the community every year.

- Participating organizations have earned almost $815,000 in matching dollars to date in addition to gifts made by donors to their endowment funds.
- The endowment fund balances of the organizations taking advantage of FundMatch have grown from $4.45 million to over $23.29 million – a remarkable return on investment for the organizations.
- Larger endowment funds promote stable operating resources for organizations affording them more time and resources to put toward programming and services for the community.

The two initiatives are currently being funded in three ways:

i. Sponsorship Gifts

The Asper Foundation Will Hechter
Carol & Sheldon Berney Fund Myrna Levin
Marjorie & Morley Blankstein Fund Tova & Larry Vickar
Ted & Deanna Cohen

ii. Granting from Endowment Fund

Berdie & Irvin Cohen (BERVIN) Organizational Incentive Fund

iii. A commitment from the JFM

Thank you to the donors who provided matching dollars and thank you to the participating organizations. These partnerships are critical to the Foundation's mission of encouraging and facilitating the creation and growth of endowment funds to enable the community to realize its potential.

BAR/BAT MITZVAH ENDOWMENT FUNDS

These funds instill the principles of tzedakah and philanthropy in young people. When a child's fund reaches $750, the Nora & David Kaufman Bar/Bat Mitzvah Fund contributes an additional $250 to bring the fund to the $1,000 level. Once this happens, the fundholder is invited to recommend their annual allocation.

2022 SIGNERS

Endowment Book of Life Signers leave both a financial and historical legacy. The historical legacy woven throughout their stories paints a picture of a community that was born out of struggle and that not only survived, but thrived. Their financial commitment gives the Foundation the ability to continue to strengthen and uphold the community for our children, grandchildren and for generations to come.

On Sunday, October 30, 2022, more than 130 people gathered for an intimate brunch full of warmth, celebration, and entertainment at the Congregation Etz Chayim in Winnipeg for the annual Endowment Book of Life Signers' Brunch.

Due to the pandemic, this was the first year since 2019 that we could host this event in person. At last, signers from 2020, 2021 and 2022 had the opportunity to publicly make their commitment to leaving a lasting financial legacy to their community.
